

Old Glory Colors for Patriotic, Summertime Decorating!

"PAINTING" OUR HOME IN RED, WHITE AND BLUE IN HONOR OF MEMORIAL DAY, THE 4TH OF JULY, AND LABOR DAY

THE ENTRYWAY Flags everywhere - in door wreaths, planters, gardens and more - welcome friends and neighbors with a patriotic flair.

FAMILY ROOM Red, white and blue splashes of color in our family room keep the patriotic theme going.

LIVING ROOM The huge bouquet on the mantel is stuffed with flags while the antique cast iron Uncle Sam bank holds court on the coffee table.

DINING ROOM Whimsical Uncle Sam tapers stand guard over the dining room table.

THE KITCHEN Doing the dishes is a little more fun with these decorations in our greenhouse windows.

THE MASTER BEDROOM The focal point of our master bedroom is a pineapple poster bed dressed with a beautiful quilt, hand-made by the mother of a good friend. Beyond the French doors is my digital design studio with its sitting room and graphic design workspace.

PAINTING STUDIO This room has plenty of natural light all day - making it the perfect setting for painting. I've decorated it with a seashore theme - a bit of a tribute to all of the water that comes out of the sky that we're so famous for in the Seattle area! But - rain or shine - this side of the house gets the best light during daytime hours.
