

Cozy at Home in a Winter Wonderland

DECORATING OUR BRICK BUNGALOW WITH A HEARTFELT MOTIF

HOUSE & ENTRYWAY (Below) Staked metal crimson hearts adorn the snow-filled garden. A fourth hangs from the porch's ceiling. "Welcome" says the plaque on the oak storm door that's original to the house.

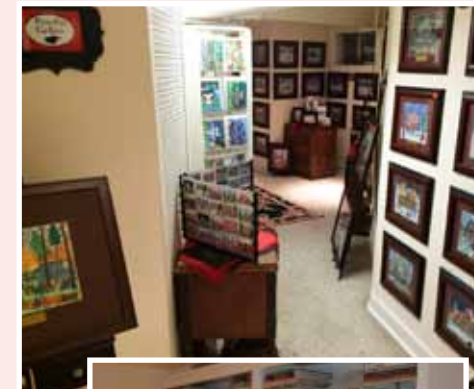

THE LIVING/DINING ROOM SUITE The dining room table is dressed for Valentine's Day with frosted winter birds holding court amid gold beaded lamps and red heart-based champagne flutes. Candles add soft light to the dining room, corner bar and cozy living room.

GOLF-THEMED DEN/TV ROOM Doug's den/TV room is decorated with golf memorabilia, his trophies and tournament photos. This is the main floor "man room."

MASTER BEDROOM/SITTING ROOM We opened up the wall between these two rooms and connected them with paned French doors. The suite overlooks the wintry back yard.

THE LOWER LEVEL GUEST SUITE This hospitable, suite houses a bedroom, large bathroom and a family room (pictured here) - perfect for guests who want to stay awhile. It has an egress window that keeps it light and bright.

PITTYPAT GALLERY & STUDIO This lower level space houses my PittyPat Art Gallery (closed for the season) and all my research books and art supplies - everything I need in one spot for creating!

KITCHEN/BREAKFAST NOOK/POWDER ROOM We elected to keep the original cupboards, but added glass to the doors. We also had my sister's fiance replace the putty-colored tile with gorgeous hardwood to add polish and warmth to the room.
