

At Home with Red, White & Blue!

DRESSING OUR VINTAGE BUNGALOW WITH A PATRIOTIC FLAIR

LIVING OUTDOORS (Left & Below) These five photos share the front and back yard. Every year my husband Doug hangs a huge American flag given to him by Senator Warren G. Magnusson on the three Summer patriotic holidays. Between the gardening (folks have given me fun bicycle yard art over the years), golfing and al fresco meals with pals, we are ALWAYS outdoors!

THE LIVING/DINING ROOM SUITE (Right and Center) Summer brings out flags and patriotic decorations in red, white and blue. White blossoms add to the mix on the dining room table with "Uncle Sam" tapers and blue "Calico" dinnerware I've collected for decades. Uncle Sam drives a toy on top a pile of seasonal coffee table books with themes like camps, cottages, bicycles, Adirondack furniture, vintage wood boats and our National Parks.

MASTER BEDROOM SUITE (Above) Our bedroom looks through the sitting room French doors to the back yard gardens. The suite receives lots of morning sunshine - making it the perfect place to start the day.

PITTYPAT GALLERY & STUDIO (Above) PittyPat Gallery features 30+ works that revolve with the seasons. It features the Sweet Summer Collection on this website including scenes of lake cabins, biking, boating and golf plus folks celebrating patriotic holidays. My studio overlooks the back yard.

THE GUEST SUITE (Above) This hospitable, roomy lower level suite includes a bedroom with a comfy pineapple poster bed, bath & shower and a large den filled with books, CDs and a game table. Similar to my art studio, the suite has two big windows that keep it light and bright. It's a comfortable base for visiting friends and family who want to take advantage of the nearby parks and golf courses the Inland Northwest has to offer.

KITCHEN/BREAKFAST NOOK (Left) The kitchen carries through the bicycle theme. The breakfast nook are dressed in comfy cushions and valances created from Liz Claiborne's "Wild Flowers" design. It overlooks the back yard garden - a welcome site in the morning - whatever the weather!
